FILMOGRAPHY

- 2021 Images of Good-Bye. Short experimental film dedicated to the memory of those lost in the 9/11 attack on New York City, the Pentagon, and Shanksville, PA. Music for the film is If This is Good-Bye, by Mark Knopfler. Currently available on You Tube.
- 2020 Made in Auschwitz: The Untold Story of Block Ten. The 2019-2020 academic year has been the culmination of years of work. I began researching the role of medical doctors in genocide with my husband Dr. Frederick Sweet Professor of OB&GYN at Washington University Medical School, over a decade ago. I have studied and taught the Holocaust for over 40 years. In 2012, we collaborated on the article Clauberg's Eponym and Crimes Against Humanity, for the Israel Medical Association Journal (IMAJ).

In 2015, I was contacted by Dr. Sylvia Nagel and Sonya Winterberg about collaborating on a documentary they were producing about Dr. Carl Clauberg and medical experiments in Auschwitz during WWII. They read our article and invited me to join their team. I became a co-producer for the project.

There are many documentaries about the Holocaust. But this is the first documentary about Dr. Clauberg and the plan for mass sterilization experiments at the center of the final solution. When combined with Clauberg's Eponym and Crimes Against Humanity, my research along with my colleagues breaks new ground in the understanding of a watershed moment in human history. It also includes revelations about the complicity of major pharmaceutical company giants such as Bayer, Schering and Siemens in providing equipment and materials used by Clauberg in his genocidal Auschwitz experiments.

Made in Auschwitz: The Untold Story of Block Ten, was broadcast on Israeli Television in commemoration of Holocaust Remembrance Day in May 2019. It has since been broadcast on ARTE and ZDF in Germany, France, Belgium and elsewhere in the European Union. It has also been shown on TV in Brazil and continues to be bought on the global market. The film made its festival premiere in August 2019 at the San Francisco Jewish Film Festival one of the oldest and most prestigious Jewish film festivals in the United States. Since then it has been screened at the: St. Louis International Film Festival; Miami Jewish Film Festival; Film Festival Cologne; and numerous highly prestigious festivals in north America; Europe; Israel; and south America. It has also been sold and distributed by Filmmaker's Library to University Libraries in dozens of countries for research and classroom use.

FILM / VIDEO IN PRODUCTION

- 2024 Invest in Education! Multi-platform series of public service announcements. They are intended to highlight the potential consequences of under-educating American youth in the post-COVID era of the 21stst Century. Funded by the UMSL Mid-Career Research Investment Grant.
- 2024 My Life with Progesterone (draft title). Documentary on the life of Dr. Willard Allen. The team of Dr.(s) Willard Allen and George Corner discovered Progesterone in 1933. It was the same year that Dr. Carl Clauberg joined the Nazi Party in Germany. Already a renowned scientist, Clauberg created the Clauberg Test, also known as the 'rabbit test' to determine pregnancy in women. Clauberg went on to carry out medical experiments on methods of mass sterilization at Auschwitz during the Second World War. Willard Allen went on to become director of the Department of OB&GYN at Washington University Medical School in St. Louis Missouri, and was the youngest OB&GYN department chair in American history. He was also responsible for desegregating the labor and delivery floors and ultimately Barnes Hospital, one of the largest teaching hospitals in the America. The film is seen as a morality play about these two renowned pioneers of gynecologic endocrinology.
- 2024 Charles Klotzer Still Making a Difference (draft title). A follow up to the documentary made in 2004, Whose Minding the Media: Charles Klotzer and the St. Louis Journalism Review.

EXHIBITIONS and CURATORIAL WORK

- 2013 Twenty Years Later: Cinema from the Former Yugoslavia. Ghosts of the Past – Visions of the Future. St. Louis International Film Festival (SLIFF). Working in collaboration with SLIFF to create a side-bar about cinema from the former Yugoslavia in the post-communist, and post-Balkan War period. Central to the concept of the exhibition/event was to bring filmmakers from the region to St. Louis to screen their films and discuss issues of creativity and freedom of expression in a “neutral” environment at UMSL. The event included a panel discussion that was very well attended. Gallery 210 was the event venue in addition to the screenings at SLIFF. The filmmakers included: Boris Mitic (Serbia), Arsen Ostojic (Croatia), Almir Sahinovic and Hari Secic (Bosnia). Ostojic’s film Halima’s Path was the Croatian nomination for the 2013 Academy Awards. All the filmmakers have won numerous international awards at top festivals. The program also included a collection of student films curated by Hari Secic, the first student from our exchange program with the University of Sarajevo. He collected current films from all the film academies in the Balkan region: Bosnia, Serbia, Montenegro, Kosovo, Slovenia, and Croatia, and screened them at Gallery 210.
